(CIEH) LEVEL 2 AWARD IN

Food Safety in Catering

Aims

The Chartered Institute of Environmental Health Level 2 Award in Food Safety in Catering (which replaces the Foundation Certificate in Food Hygiene) will benefit anyone working in catering. Although it is aimed at all those involved in the catering industry, many of the principles apply to any food business.

Objectives

By the end of the course delegates will understand the principles of food safety and how they should be applied in the workplace. Food handlers will have a greater understanding of food hygiene and the control of food safety risks.

The (CIEH) Level 2 Award in Food Safety in Catering certificate will be awarded on successful completion of the course.

The courses are held at North Norfolk District Council's offices in Cromer.

The course is designed to teach basic hygiene principles to food handlers. It is covered in one full day session.

Topics covered:

- Introduction to food safety
- Food law
- Food safety hazards
- Taking temperatures
- Cooking, hot holding, and re-heating of foods
- Food handlers
- Principles of food storage
- Delivery and storage
- Cleaning
- Food premises and equipment

For current fees visit www.northnorfolk.org/environment/222.asp or call 01263 516189.

The fee includes refreshments morning and afternoon but does not include lunch.

Please return completed enrolment form (on back cover) at least three weeks before the date of your course.

Please use separate forms for each additional person applying for the course, either by photocopying the form on the back cover, or by downloading this leaflet from
